CIVIL ACTION NUMBER

1:17-CV-02237-WSD

COMPLAINT – CLASS ACTION

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

FIRST AMENDED CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

COMES NOW Plaintiff, TIMOTHY O’SULLIVAN, individually and on behalf of all other persons similarly situated, by his undersigned attorneys, Hurt Stolz, P.C. and Kozonis Law, P.C., and files this, his First Amended Class Action Complaint against Defendant, iSpring Water Systems, LLC (“iSpring”), pursuant to this Court’s Order of June 22, 2017 [Doc. 4] wherein the Court instructed Plaintiff to more specifically allege citizenship of Defendant iSpring.

Plaintiff alleges the following based upon personal knowledge as to himself and his own action, and, as to all other matters, respectfully alleges, upon information and belief and investigation of his counsel, as follows:

NATURE OF THE ACTION

This is a class action case brought on behalf of all purchasers of Defendant iSpring's products that were packaged, labeled, advertised, marketed, sold, and/or distributed as made in the United States, including, but not limited to, iSpring's water filtration systems and parts (hereinafter the "Products"). Through a fraudulent, unlawful, deceptive and unfair course of conduct, Defendant packaged, labeled, advertised, marketed, sold, and/or distributed the Products with the false representation that the Products are all made in the United States. In reality, Defendant's Products are wholly imported and/or sources of significant inputs to Defendant's Products are from overseas.

2.

Defendant's express or implied representations that the Products were made in the United States are false, deceptive and misleading, and violate almost every state warranty, consumer protection, and product labeling law in the United States.

3.

Plaintiff now brings this proposed consumer class action on behalf of himself and all other persons nationwide, who from the applicable limitations period(s) up to and including the present, purchased Defendant's Products.

Defendant has deceived Plaintiff and other consumers nationwide. Through Defendant's unfair and deceptive practices, Defendant has collected millions of dollars from the sale of its Products that it would not have otherwise earned. Plaintiff brings this action to stop Defendant's misleading practice.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005 (hereinafter referred to as "CAFA") codified as 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2) because, as explained below (see infra at ¶¶ 8, 52), (i) the number of plaintiffs in all proposed plaintiff classes exceeds one hundred; (ii) the aggregate of the claims of the proposed Class Members exceed $5,000,000, exclusive of interest and costs; and (iii) Plaintiff - a citizen of South Carolina - and the vast majority of putative class members are citizens of a different state than Defendant, whose members are citizens of Georgia.

5.

The Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because Defendant's headquarters are located in Georgia and Defendant regularly conducts business in this District.

6.

Venue is proper because a substantial portion of the events complained of occurred in this District.

PARTIES

Plaintiff, Timothy O’Sullivan, is a citizen of the State of South Carolina residing in the City of Bluffton, and is a member of the Classes defined herein. Mr. O’Sullivan and members of the Classes suffered an injury in fact caused by the false, fraudulent, unfair, deceptive and misleading practices of Defendant set forth in this Complaint. Plaintiff Timothy O’Sullivan and members of the Classes would not have purchased the Products had they known they were not made in the United States.

8.

Defendant, iSpring, is a Georgia limited liability company with its principal office place of business at 3020 Trotters Parkway, Alpharetta, GA 30004. On information and belief, Defendant’s members are Zhuangyong Chen and Yunzhu (“Pearl”) Cai, who are both citizens of the State of Georgia.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

Defendant manufactures, markets, advertises, packages, and distributes reverse osmosis (“RO”) water filtration systems and parts all across the United States.

10.

Defendant Products include residential and commercial RO systems, whole house water systems, ultrafiltration systems, shower, faucet, and counter top filters, filter cartridges and housings, RO coolers, and kitchen faucets and fittings.

11.

Defendant directs and controls all significant aspects of the sale of its well-known Products, including the manufacturing, marketing, packaging, distribution, and pricing.

12.

The Products are sold at hundreds (if not thousands) of stores throughout the United States and on consumer retail websites such as Amazon.com, Walmart.com, Homedepot.com, Sears.com, and Purewaterfilter.org.

13.

According to Defendant, it is the “#1 Best Seller” of water filtration systems in the United States.

14.

Defendant sells its well-known water filtration systems for a premium. For example, Defendant charges approximately $186.00 for one of its residential RO water filtration system.¹

15.

Unlike Defendant’s residential water filtration system, a typical water filtration system costs as little as $54.00.²

16.

Defendant is able to sell the Products for a premium because, as highlighted in the following images, Defendant advertised, marketed, labeled, packaged and/or 17.

Contrary to the aforementioned representations, Defendant's Products are not made in the United States.

18.

Attached hereto as Exhibit B [Doc. 1-2] is the Federal Trade Commission's ("FTC") Enforcement Policy Statement on U.S. Origin Claims. This document provides guidance to manufacturers and merchants regarding the use of "Made in the USA" and similar claims in marketing and advertising.

19.

As this guidance makes clear, a claim that a product is made in the USA can be express or implied. The "Made in USA" claim with respect to Defendant's products constituted an express claim of domestic origin.

20.

For a product to be called American-made or claimed to be of domestic origin, without qualifications or limits on that claim, the product must be "all or virtually all" made in the United States. The term "United States," as referred to in the Enforcement Policy Statement, includes the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and all U.S. territories and possessions. "All or virtually all" means that all significant parts and processing that go into the product must be of U.S. origin. That is, the product should contain no – or negligible – foreign content.

When a manufacturer or marketer makes an unqualified, express claim that a product is American-made, it should have and rely on a “reasonable basis” to support the claim at the time it is made. This means a manufacturer or marketer needs competent and reliable evidence to back up the claim that its product is “all or virtually all” made in the United States.

22.

In a Federal Register notice, the Customs Service indicated that, where a product has a foreign origin, any references to the United States would be considered misleading to the ultimate purchaser and would require foreign country-of-origin marking in accordance with 19 C.F.R. § 134.46. 62 Fed. Reg. 44,211, 44,213 (1997).

23.

In February of 2017, the FTC filed a complaint against Defendant alleging that Defendant deceived consumers with false, misleading, or unsupported claims that its Products are “Built in USA,” “Built in USA Legendary brand of water filter,” and “Proudly Built in the USA.” A copy of the Complaint and Decision and Order entered into thereafter are attached hereto as Exhibit C. [Doc. 1-3].

As a result of the complaint filed by the FTC, Defendant agreed to stop making misleading unqualified claims that the Products are made in the United States. See FTC Press Release attached hereto as Exhibit D. [Doc. 1-4].

25.

Defendant made the aforementioned misrepresentations and/or omissions with the intention that Plaintiff and other consumers would rely on them. The only conceivable purpose for falsely and deceptively making these claims about the Products is to stimulate sales and enhance Defendant’s profits.

26.

The aforementioned misrepresentations and/or omissions of Defendant are significant and material to a reasonable consumer. Plaintiff and members of the Classes relied on Defendant’s misrepresentations and/or omissions to purchase the Products.

27.

A 2015 survey by Consumer Reports magazine found that almost 80% of Americans are willing to pay more for American-made goods.

This month . . . we examine one of the nation’s most ubiquitous labels: Made in America. It’s a phrase that wields real power in the marketplace. A recent Consumer Reports survey found that 77 percent of Americans are willing to pay more for a product that has the claim.

“What does the ‘Made in America’ label really mean?” Consumer Reports, July 2015, available at www.consumerreports.org/cro/magazine/2015/07/from-ourpresident-july-2015/index.htm, (emphasis added).

28.

These consumers choose to purchase American because of a “belief in American quality and safety,” and because it is “the best way to support the American economy and workers.” See Exhibit E [Doc. 1-5].

29.

Because of Defendant’s deceptive advertising practices, consumers (including Plaintiff) were fraudulently induced to purchase the Products.

Plaintiff’s Experience with Defendant’s Products

30.

Plaintiff is a patriotic American who seeks out and prefers to purchase goods made in the United States rather than imported goods, and is willing to pay a premium for American-made goods.

31.

Like other Class members, Plaintiff prefers to “buy American” because of his “belief in American quality and safety,” and because it is “the best way to support the American economy and workers.”

32.

In January 2014, Plaintiff purchased one of Defendant’s Products - a well-known water filtration system. See Exhibit F [Doc. 1-6].

33.

In May of 2017, Plaintiff discovered for the first time that Defendant’s Products, including the water filtration system he purchased, are not made in the United States.

34.

Plaintiff purchased and paid a premium for the water filtration system because Defendant advertised and packaged the product as made in the United States.

35.

Plaintiff would not have purchased and paid a premium for the water filtration system had he known that it was wholly imported and/or sources of significant inputs to the water filtration system are from overseas.

36.

Plaintiff is in the same Classes as all other consumers who purchased Defendant's Products during the relevant time period. Plaintiff and the members of the Classes were in fact misled by Defendant's misrepresentations and/or omissions in respect to the Products. Plaintiff and members of the Classes would have purchased other less expensive water filtration systems and parts, if any at all, if they had not been deceived by the misleading and deceptive packaging, labeling, advertising and/or marketing of the Products by Defendant.

37.

Consumers are particularly vulnerable to these kinds of false and deceptive marketing practices. Most consumers are unable to verify that products such as Defendant's are, in fact, made in the United States. As set forth above, this is a material factor in consumers' purchasing decisions.

38.

Plaintiff intends to make future purchases of water filtration systems and parts that are represented as made in the United States. Because Defendant operates under various business names and sells the Products through various stores and consumer retail websites, Plaintiff has no way of knowing the products he is purchasing are, in fact, made in the United States. Accordingly, without injunctive relief, consumers – including Plaintiff – could easily fall prey to such deceptive marketing tactics in the future.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

39.

Plaintiff incorporates by reference all other paragraphs of this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

40.

Plaintiff brings this action individually and on behalf of all other persons similarly situated pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23. The class definition(s) may depend on the information obtained throughout discovery. Notwithstanding, at this time, Plaintiff brings this action and seeks certification of the following Classes:

National Class: All persons within the United States who purchased the Products from the beginning of any applicable limitations period through the date of class certification (the “National Class” or the “Class”).

South Carolina Sub-Class: All persons in South Carolina who purchased the Products from the beginning of any applicable limitations period through the date of class certification (the “South Carolina Sub-Class”).

Excluded from the Classes are the Defendant, and any entities in which the Defendant has a controlling interest, the Defendant's agents, employees and their legal representatives, any Judge to whom this action is assigned and any member of such Judge's staff and immediate family, Plaintiff's counsel, their staff and immediate family.

42.

Plaintiff reserves the right to amend the Class definitions if further information and discovery indicate that the Class definitions should be narrowed, expanded, or otherwise modified.

43.

Certification of Plaintiff's claims for class-wide treatment is appropriate because Plaintiff can prove the elements of his claims on a class-wide basis using the same evidence as would be used to prove those elements in individual actions alleging the same claims.

44.

Numerosity – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(1). The members of the Classes are so numerous that their individual joinder herein is impracticable. On information and belief, Class Members number in at least the thousands. The precise number of Class Members and their addresses are presently unknown to Plaintiff, but may be ascertained from Defendant's books and records. Class Members may be notified of the pendency of this action by mail, email, Internet postings, and/or publication.

45.

Commonality and Predominance – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(2) and 23(b)(3). Common questions of law and fact exist as to all Class Members and predominate over questions affecting only individual Class Members. Such common questions of law or fact include:

- a) Whether Defendant made express or implied representations that the Products are made in the United States;
- b) Whether Defendant had a “reasonable basis” to make express or implied representations that the Products are made in the United States;
- c) Whether the Products are made in the United States as defined by the FTC;
- d) Whether the Products are wholly imported and/or sources of significant inputs to the Products are from overseas;

- e) Whether the marketing, advertising, packaging, labeling, and other promotional materials for the Products are deceptive;
- f) Whether consumers paid a premium for Defendant's Products;
- g) Whether Defendant's actions violate the state consumer fraud statute invoked below;
- h) Whether Defendant breached express warranties to Plaintiff and Class members;
- i) Whether Plaintiff and Class members were damaged by Defendant's conduct;
- j) Whether Defendant was unjustly enriched at the expense of Plaintiff and Class members; and
- k) Whether Plaintiff and class members are entitled to injunctive relief.

46.

Defendant engaged in a common course of conduct giving rise to the legal rights Plaintiff seeks to enforce, on behalf of himself and the other Class Members. Similar or identical statutory and common law violations, business practices, and injuries are involved. Individual questions, if any, pale in comparison, in both quality and quantity, to the numerous common questions that dominate this action.

47.

Typicality – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(3). Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the other members of the Classes because, among other things, all Class Members were comparably injured through Defendant's uniform misconduct described above. Further, there are no defenses available to Defendant that are unique to Plaintiff or to any particular Class Members.

48.

Adequacy of Representation – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(4). Plaintiff is an adequate Class representative because his interests do not conflict with the interests of the other Class Members he seeks to represent; he has retained counsel competent and experienced in complex class action litigation; and he will prosecute this action vigorously. The Classes' interests will be fairly and adequately protected by Plaintiff and the undersigned counsel.

49.

Insufficiency of Separate Actions – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(1). Absent a representative class action, members of the Classes would continue to suffer the harm described herein, for which they would have no remedy. Even if separate actions could be brought by individual consumers, the resulting multiplicity of lawsuits would cause undue burden and expense for both the Court and the litigants, as well as create a risk of inconsistent rulings and adjudications that might be dispositive of the interests of similarly situated purchasers, substantially impeding their ability to protect their interests, while establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendant. The proposed Classes thus satisfy the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(1).

Declaratory and Injunctive Relief – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure

23(b)(2). Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief and declaratory relief, as described below, with respect to the members of the Classes as a whole.

51.

Superiority – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(3). A class action is superior to any other available means for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy, and no unusual difficulties are likely to be encountered in the management of this class action. The damages or other financial detriment suffered by Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes are relatively small compared to the burden and expense that would be required to individually litigate their claims against Defendant, so it would be impracticable for members of the Classes to individually seek redress for Defendant's wrongful conduct. Even if members of the Classes could afford individual litigation, the court system could not. Individualized litigation would create a potential for inconsistent or contradictory judgments, and increase the delay and expense to all parties and the court system. By contrast, the class action device presents far fewer management difficulties, and provides the benefits of single adjudication, economy of scale, and comprehensive supervision by a single court.

Basis for Determination of Jurisdictional Amount Pursuant to LR 23.1.

As set forth above (see ¶ 4), this Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to CAFA because the claims of the proposed Class Members exceed $5,000,000. “The amount in controversy is not proof of the amount the plaintiff will recover. Rather, it is an estimate of the amount that will be put at issue in the course of the litigation.” Verizon Communications, 627 F.3d 395, 400 (10th Cir. 2011) quoting McPhail v. Deere & Co., 529 F.3d 947, 956 (10th Cir. 2008). Plaintiff believes the jurisdictional amount is satisfied on the following basis: Defendant claims to be the “#1 Best Seller” of water filtration systems in the United States. In fact, Defendant's Products are sold at major retail stores such as Amazon.com, Walmart.com, Homedepot.com, Sears.com, and Purewaterfilter.org. Moreover, a

“Youtube” video posted in late-2013 indicates that over 300,000 users viewed a video about how to install one of Defendant’s well-known water filtration systems.⁴ Based on this information, Plaintiff believes it is safe to assume that, at a minimum, 250,000 consumers have purchased one of the Products over the applicable Class Period. Defendant charges approximately $186 for one of its well-known water filtration systems. See supra at ¶ 14. By attributing a modest 10% price premium ($18.60) for Defendant’s false “Made in the USA” claims⁵ to the purchase price of 250,000 units, that amounts to a total compensatory damages award of $4,650,000. In addition, Plaintiff seeks an award of his attorneys’ fees as permitted under the Georgia Fair Business Practices Act, OCGA §§ 10-1-390 et seq. Applying a 30% fee award⁶ to the conservative estimate of $4,650,000 in

⁴ <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sDhC9XMKLPA>.

⁶ A fee award of approximately 30% of the judgment is “well within the reasonable range of percentage of the fund awards” in class actions. See Multi-Ethnic Immigrant Workers Org. Network v. City of Los Angeles, No. CV 07-3072 AHM FMMX, 2009 WL 9100391, at 4-5 (C.D. Cal. June 24, 2009) (finding 31% fee award of $3.9 million in attorney’s fees reasonable in class action suit and noting a study that attorneys’ fees in class actions averaged approximately 32% of the recovery); see also Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1050 (9th potential compensatory damages, the potential attorneys' fee award could easily amount to $1,395,000 (30% of $4,650,000), thus bringing the total potential recovery to $6,045,000.⁷

CAUSES OF ACTION

Count I - Violation of the Georgia Fair Business Practices Act

(On Behalf of the National Class)

53.

Plaintiff incorporates by reference all of the foregoing paragraphs of this Complaint as if fully stated herein.

54.

The Georgia Fair Business Practices Act ("FBPA"), OCGA §§ 10-1-390 et seq., prohibits the use of unfair or deceptive business practices in the conduct of Cir. 2002) (affirming 28% fee award of $7 million of attorney's fees in class action).

trade or commerce. The FBPA is to be liberally construed to effectuate its purposes. OCGA § 10-1-391.

55.

OCGA § 10-1-393(b)(4)(A) provides that the “the following practices are declared unlawful: [u]sing deceptive representations or designations of geographic origin in connection with goods or services.”

56.

Defendant violated OCGA § 10-1-393(b)(4)(A) of the FBPA by marketing and representing that its Products are made in the United States when they, in fact, are not made in the United States.

57.

It is alleged on information and belief that Defendant’s violations of the FBPA set forth herein were done with awareness of the fact that the conduct alleged was wrongful and were motivated solely for increased profit. It is also alleged on information and belief that Defendant did these acts knowing the harm that would result to Plaintiff and the Class members and that Defendant did these acts notwithstanding that knowledge.

58.

As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's violations of the FBPA, Plaintiff and Class members are entitled to the following remedies against Defendant: (a) a declaration that Defendant violated the FBPA; and (b) an injunction preventing Defendant's unlawful actions.

59.

Plaintiff suffered an "injury-in-fact" because Plaintiff's money was taken by Defendant as a result of Defendants' false 'Made in U.S.A.' claims set forth herein.

60.

Moreover, Defendant's deceptive practices involving the Products were designed, established, and initiated from Defendant's marketing and sales agents located at Defendant's corporate headquarters in Georgia and were designed to be uniformly relied upon by consumers nationwide when they purchased the Products thereby implicating the legitimate interest of the State of Georgia in ensuring that entities within its jurisdiction operate in accordance with Georgia law.

61.

Therefore, Georgia has a legitimate interest in applying its law to adjudicate this dispute and to ensure that its residents comply with its consumer protection laws while serving Georgia and out-of-state consumers.

62.

Accordingly, Georgia law has significant contacts to the claims asserted by this Class so that application of its consumer fraud laws to all Class claimants is not arbitrary, capricious, or unfair and is not a violation of due process.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Count II

Violation of the South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices Act

(In the Alternative to Count I and on behalf of the South Carolina Sub-Class)

63.

Plaintiff incorporates by reference Paragraphs 1-52 of this Complaint as if fully stated herein.

64.

The South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices Act (the "UTPA"), S.C. Code §§ 39-5-10 et seq., prohibits the use of unfair or deceptive business practices in the conduct of trade or commerce.

65.

Defendant's conduct in marketing, advertising, packaging, labelling and/or selling the Products as made in the United States constitutes the act, use and employment of deception, fraud, false pretenses, false promises, misrepresentation, and unfair practices in the conduct of Defendant's trade or commerce.

66.

It is alleged on information and belief that Defendant's violations of the UTPA set forth herein were done with awareness of the fact that the conduct alleged was wrongful and were motivated solely for increased profit. It is also alleged on information and belief that Defendant did these acts knowing the harm that would result to Plaintiff and the Class members and that Defendant did these acts notwithstanding that knowledge.

67.

As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's violations of the UTPA, Plaintiff and Class members are entitled to the following remedies against Defendant: (a) a declaration that Defendant violated the UTPA; and (b) an injunction preventing Defendant's unlawful actions.

68.

Plaintiff suffered an "injury-in-fact" because Plaintiff's money was taken by Defendant as a result of Defendants' false 'Made in U.S.A.' claims set forth herein.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of the other members of the Illinois Sub-Class proposed in this Complaint, respectfully requests that the Court enter judgment as follows:

- a) Declaring that this action is a proper class action, certifying the South Carolina Sub-Class as requested herein, designating Plaintiff as Class Representative, and appointing the undersigned counsel as Class Counsel for the South Carolina Sub-Class;
- b) Enjoining Defendant from engaging in the unlawful conduct set forth herein;
- c) Ordering Defendant to pay actual damages to Plaintiff and the other members of the South Carolina Sub-Class;
- d) Ordering Defendant to pay punitive damages, as allowable by law, to Plaintiff and the other members of the South Carolina Sub-Class;
- e) Ordering Defendant to pay reasonable attorneys' fees and litigation costs to Plaintiff and the other members of the South Carolina Sub-Class;
- f) Ordering Defendant to pay both pre- and post-judgment interest on any amounts awarded; and

g) Ordering such other and further relief as may be just and proper.

Count III

Unjust Enrichment

(On Behalf of the National Class and the South Carolina Sub-Class)

69.

Plaintiff incorporates by reference all of the foregoing paragraphs of this Complaint as if fully stated herein.

70.

Plaintiff brings this claim against Defendant on behalf of himself, the National Class, and the South Carolina Subclass (for purposes of this Count, the “Classes”).

71.

Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes conferred benefits on Defendant by purchasing the Products.

72.

Defendant has been unjustly enriched in retaining the revenues derived from the purchases of the Products by Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes. Retention of those monies under these circumstances is unjust and inequitable because the marketing, advertising, packaging and/or labelling of the Products was misleading to consumers, which caused injuries to Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes because they would not have purchased or paid a premium for the Product had they known the true facts, that the Products were not made in the United States.

73.

Because Defendant's retention of the non-gratuitous benefits conferred on it by Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes is unjust and inequitable, Defendant must pay restitution to Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes for its unjust enrichment, as ordered by the Court.

74.

Moreover, Defendant's misrepresentations described herein were designed, established, and initiated from Defendant's marketing and sales agents located at Defendant's corporate headquarters in Georgia and were designed to be uniformly relied upon by consumers nationwide when they purchased the Products thereby implicating the legitimate interest of the State of Georgia in ensuring that entities within its jurisdiction operate in accordance with Georgia law.

75.

Therefore, Georgia has a legitimate interest in applying its law to adjudicate this dispute and to ensure that its residents comply with its common law while serving Georgia and out-of-state consumers.

76.

Accordingly, Georgia law has significant contacts to the claims asserted by this Class so that application of Georgia unjust enrichment law to all Class claimants is not arbitrary, capricious, or unfair and is not a violation of due process.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of the other members of the Classes proposed in this Complaint, respectfully requests that the Court enter judgment as follows:

- a) Declaring that this action is a proper class action, certifying the Classes as requested herein, designating Plaintiff as Class Representative, and appointing the undersigned counsel as Class Counsel for the Classes;
- b) Ordering Defendant to pay restitution to Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes;

- c) Ordering Defendant to pay both pre- and post-judgment interest on any amounts awarded; and
- d) Ordering such other and further relief as may be just and proper.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Plaintiff demands a trial by jury of all claims in this Complaint so triable. Plaintiff also respectfully requests leave to amend this Complaint to conform to the evidence, if such amendment is needed for trial.

Respectfully submitted, this 23rd day of June, 2017.
